ABOUT MANA PUPPETS

Ros and Hugh Childers, the founders of Mana Puppets, believe strongly in the power of puppets to provide an educational message, to entertain and to cross cultural, age and class boundaries. Puppetry provides students with educational experiences, while promoting their understanding of self, their own feelings, attitudes and behaviours as well as those of others. Since 1999, Ros and Hugh have been offering innovative educational puppetry programs. Their German language puppet show has been recognised as a contribution to German language education by the Goethe- Institute, which has assisted them with tours in Australia over the last few years. The Queensland Fire and Rescue Service has also recognised the importance of their fire safety program and has licensed Mana Puppets to use the character of Blazer, the Firefighting Koala, as a puppet in their fire safety puppet show.

THE SHOW

The Three Little Pigs, Percy, Patty and Peter, make an emergency move to the country and decide to build their own houses. They meet Wolfgang the Wolf who pretends to be their "friendly neighbour from over the hill." The pigs are amusing, colourful characters, who dance to techno music and wear reverse baseball caps in a modern version of the traditional story. The show is performed live with original music and songs and students are encouraged to participate actively. A variety of puppet styles and an imaginative, multi-level set are featured. After the performance, Ros, a registered teacher with over twenty years teaching experience, uses the puppets in an interaction segment. An added incentive to participate is an opportunity to work a puppet on a colourful mini puppet stage.

AUDIENCE

Kindergarten/Prep/Pre-school to Year 3 students.

Ros and Hugh are Blue Card holders.

We require an hour and a half to set up and 45 minutes to dismantle the set.
